Dear Colleagues,

I have enjoyed working with you over the past two years as an Outreach Librarian with the Health Sciences Libraries (HSL) at the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities. However, I wanted to let you know that I am retiring effective June 13, 2008.

My position with the Health Sciences Libraries was unique in that it was a part-time position allowing me to live and work in Duluth and build relationships with librarians, faculty, staff, and health care professionals in northeastern Minnesota.

I have also been able to contribute to My Health Minnesota → Go Local (<http://medlineplus.gov/minnesota>), an exciting outreach project linking Minnesotans to health care services in their communities and to reliable health information from medlineplus.gov.

In another recent change, Karla Block, coordinator of the HSL outreach program, has relocated to Upstate New York but continues to work as the project manager for My Health Minnesota → Go Local until a new coordinator is named.

In the meantime, Linda Watson, Director of the Health Sciences Libraries, is working to build upon the progress made in HSL outreach activities in Duluth during the last several years. She looks forward to working with you on this endeavor. Please do not hesitate to contact her at lwatson@umn.edu or (612) 626-7039.

Sincerely,

Annelie Sober, Outreach Librarian
Duluth, Minnesota
